“SOME OF THE BEST MEMORIES ARE MADE
IN FLIP-FLOPS.” – KELLIE ELMOR

Part 1

For questions 1-8, read the text below and decide which answer (A, B, C or D) best fits each gap. There is an example at the beginning (0).

Example:

A number

B amount

C quantity

D crowd

Where to go whale watching

When asked to list the things they would most like to experience in life, a surprising 0 of people mention seeing whales in their natural habitat. It's an ambition that can be 1 surprisingly easily. It is 2 that the seas around Iceland are home to over five thousand orca whales. But their behaviour, and therefore your chances of seeing them, varies 3 to the season.

In summer, the whales have a 4 to hang out near the coast and can be seen swimming up fjords and inlets. During the winter months, however, the animals are generally to be found 5 out at sea. 6 season you choose for your trip, whale-watching trips are very easy to organise, and there's a chance you'll get to see other whale species too.

Besides Iceland, another option is to 7 for northern Norway between October and January. Orcas arrive here at this time of year in 8 of large shoals of herring, which form an important part of their diet.

1 A answered

B rewarded

C honoured

D fulfilled

2 A estimated

B counted

C guessed

D totalled

B set

C point

D pick

8 A hunt

B follow

C pursuit

D seek

Part 2

For questions 9-16, read the text below and think of the word which best fits each gap. Use only one word in each gap. There is an example at the beginning (0). In the exam, write your answers IN CAPITAL LETTERS on the separate answer sheet.

Example: WHICH

The Mini-Monet

Kieron Williamson is a very successful landscape painter. His paintings, 0 mostly depict the peaceful countryside around his home village in eastern England, sell very well. Perhaps this shouldn't 9 as that much of a surprise. It's a beautiful part of the world, and landscape paintings are always popular.

The strange thing about Kieron, however, 10 that he is only seven years old. At a recent exhibition of his work, all the paintings were sold in half an hour, some for £100,000 each. Kieron now has fans all over the world, and has gained the nickname the 'Mini-Monet'.

What's even 11 surprising is that Kieron doesn't come from an artistic family, and only started painting two years 12. He first got inspiration 13 some boats he saw on holiday at the seaside. Kieron asked his parents if they 14 buy him a sketch pad and pencils 15 that he could draw them. Only when they saw 16 well he drew did they realise that he was talented.

Part 3

For questions 17-24, read the text below. Use the word given in capitals at the end of some of the lines to form a word that fits in the gap in the same line. There is an example at the beginning (0). In the exam, write your answers IN CAPITAL LETTERS on the separate answer sheet.

Example: RESEARCH

Don't catch cold

According to recent 0, at least some of the advice about health that was passed down to our grandparents by previous generations may actually contain some 17.

A good example is the 18 between feeling cold and catching a cold. My grandmother was convinced that being outside when the temperature is low, or simply dressing in 19 clothes for the cold weather, was a sure way of catching a cold.

Now, as we know, colds are caused by viruses. Therefore, in the 20 of a virus, you cannot catch a cold - no matter how low the temperature or how 21 your clothing.

But 22 now think that we may have viruses in our bodies already, which are just waiting for the chance to turn into a cold. In cold weather, for example, blood vessels in the nose get smaller to stop heat escaping. 23, also allows the cold virus to attack the nose or throat more 24. So, perhaps Granny was right!

30. Mark can't wait to use his new computer-games console.

FORWARD

Mark is _____ his new computer games console.

Part 5

You are going to read an extract from a novel. For questions 31-36, choose the answer (A, B, C or D) which you think fits best according to the text.

A whole year had gone by since Tyler and I'd hung out together and I'd grown used to people reporting bad things about him. Mostly I just sighed. I'd accepted the fact that he was no longer the lad I once knew. He'd chosen the wrong kind of people to hang around with and had got into trouble. I knew these things only too well. Still, the news that he was in hospital shook me all the same. It was Beth's brother who told me.

'Wait for me outside Whitechapel station, Ashe,' Beth had said. She was late and I kept looking at my mobile to check the time.

The odd thing was that I'd been thinking about Tyler since the previous afternoon. I'd seen him while walking home from college. He'd got out of a car about ten metres in front of me. It had taken me only a second to recognise who it was and I'd darted into the doorway of a closed shop to avoid coming face to face with him.

When eventually I'd peeked out, he was standing on the pavement speaking on the phone. He had a long coat on over jeans and boots. His hair was cropped and his face was pale. He wasn't wearing his glasses and his free hand was cutting the air as if he was making points while talking. He was looking round but his attention was on the call. Suddenly, he brought it to an abrupt end and slipped the mobile into a pocket. He walked a couple of steps and then, to my dismay, he spotted me. He smiled and headed in my direction. I kept my face towards the glass window and studied one of the posters that had been stuck there. 'Ashe!' he'd called.

'Oh, hi!'

'What are you up to?' he said, glancing at the poster on the shop window. I stumbled out some words about looking for a gig to go to. I'd no idea what my hair looked like or if I'd got a spot on my chin or if he'd noticed me earlier watching him from the shop doorway. 'Fancy a coffee?' he said.

'I've got to be somewhere,' I said, stepping out of the shop doorway and making off.

'See you, Ashe,' he'd called after me.

After about twenty metres, I looked round and saw that he was in exactly the same position, staring at me. He raised his hand in a tiny wave and I turned and went on. I didn't look back again.

I'd thought about him on and off during the previous evening. Now, while waiting for Beth, I thought about him again. I wondered what he was doing. I pictured the funny brown glasses he'd worn to read with and wondered if he still read books by George Orwell. Perhaps I should have gone for that coffee, I might not get another chance to find out what he was really up to these days.

Beth was very late. A couple of cars started hooting and there were some raised voices from a group of pedestrians who were ignoring the red man and crossing the road. I looked through the shoppers to see if I could see Beth's cheery face but there was no sign. I took my mobile out of my pocket again and stared at the screen, but again drew a blank. I wondered what to do. I was stamping my feet with the cold. Something must have happened. Beth wouldn't just leave me standing in the freezing cold for no reason. Tyler came into my mind again. That's when I saw her brother walking towards me.

31. In the first paragraph, Ashe is surprised to discover that Tyler

A has got into trouble again.

B has made unsuitable friends.

C has been admitted to hospital.

D has been the subject of rumours.

32. How did Ashe feel when she'd first seen Tyler the previous day?
A unsure if it was him
B surprised that he was driving
C keen that he shouldn't see her
D upset that he didn't recognise her
33. The word 'it' (Paragraph Four, underlined) refers to
A a movement.
B a conversation.
C a way of looking.
D a piece of equipment.
34. When Tyler finally noticed her, Ashe felt
A relieved that he was smiling.
B sure he'd been waiting for her.
C offended by something he said.
D concerned about her appearance.
35. After meeting Tyler the previous day, Ashe had felt
A sorry that she'd been rude.
B curious about his current life.
C guilty about refusing his invitation.
D convinced that she would see him again.
36. The phrase 'drew a blank' (last paragraph, underlined) suggests that
A Beth had left no message.
B Ashe's mobile wasn't working.
C Ashe had decided to wait no longer.
D Beth was just being typically unreliable.

Part 6

You are going to read an article about jobs that involve international travel. Six sentences have been removed from the article. Choose from the sentences A-G the one which fits each gap (37-42). There is one extra sentence which you do not need to use.

WANT TO JOIN THE JET SET?

You could be jetting off to exotic locations, staying in five star hotels, eating in top-class restaurants, and it's all paid for by your employer. Who wouldn't want a job that involves foreign travel? 37 __. The number of jobs requiring international travel is growing significantly. And citing business travel experience on your CV can bring enormous professional benefits.

But it's not always as exciting as it sounds. There is a big difference between travelling to Milan as a tourist and travelling there to spend a day in the type of hotel meeting room that can be found anywhere in Europe. It can be very exciting, but you need to keep your feet firmly on the ground. Speak to seasoned international business travellers to get an idea of what you will face. Flights can be delayed, things can go wrong and it's easy to get exhausted. Many jobs mean travelling alone, so you can be lonely.

Simply targeting any job that involves foreign travel is not the way to start. 38 __. It's as illogical as saying you want a job that involves wearing smart clothes. Instead, you should consider all the usual factors, such as qualifications and experience, and only then choose a sector or company that offers opportunities for international travel.

The travel and hotel trades are obvious areas, but the commercial sector also offers good prospects for travel. In the retail sector, buyers often travel, especially if they work in fresh produce, where they have to check the suitability of crops. 39 __. Jobs in the engineering and environment sector can involve travel, too. Almost any career can mean international travel, if you choose the right company and role. The number of jobs involving travel, especially at middle-management level, is growing.

So what will help you secure a role with an international flavour? 40 __. A second language is a good indication of how well someone will adapt. You need to show you are flexible and willing to learn. If your company has a sister company in the Czech Republic, for instance, learning some Czech will boost your chances.

Find out what the company offers as a support package. Many now guarantee that you can return home at the weekends, or they will limit the amount that people travel each year. 41 __. One company asked graduates fresh out of university to move to another country over a weekend, alone, and to find their own accommodation.

And it's as well to remember that international travel can be stressful. People can get burned out by international business travel. You need to be in control of your schedule, rather than leaving it to the company. You must ensure you get time to rest and talk to your employer all the time about how you are coping. Don't wait for formal appraisals or until they ask for your views. 42 __. Most sensible companies ask people to commit to two to three years. This increases the likelihood of success. And most people who travel on business remember it fondly.

A On the other hand, it does bring personal benefits, and it also has a dramatic effect on promotion prospects.

B Making travel your first requirement is not the way to choose a career.

C And realize you might not want to travel for ever.

D Employers look for candidates with an international outlook.

E And there are plenty of opportunities.

F But not all employers are like this.

G Employment in communications, banking and finance, and property management is also worth looking at.

Part 7

You are going to read an article about fathers and sons. For questions 43-52, choose from the people (A-D). The people may be chosen more than once.

Which person's father...

43. always had faith in his son's abilities? ____
44. encouraged his son not to give up in the face of disappointment? ____
45. gave his son advice in a light-hearted way? ____
46. made his son realise the need to try harder? ____
47. may not have succeeded in passing on certain ideas to his son? ____
48. never blamed his son for mistakes that he made? ____
49. put no pressure on his son to follow in his footsteps? ____
50. reassured his son when equipment let him down? ____
51. showed his son how to perform practical tasks? ____
52. was willing to listen to his son's suggestions? ____

What's the best advice your father ever gave you?

A Tony: Racing driver

'Drive it like you stole it and keep it on the black stuff!' I was quite nervous when I first started racing, but those were my dad's jokey words of wisdom and they made me feel better at the time. In the beginning, I had quite a few spins on the circuits - the very first one was particularly scary because the car left the track, but he never said it was my fault. I used to drive a Porsche 924 and pretty much every single race something would break, but Dad would just say: 'Don't worry about the car, we can always fix it.' I didn't like people behind me when I went round corners, but Dad was always telling me not to take any notice, to focus on what I was doing. I've got a long way to go, but Dad's really good - he's hardly the most polite person to have around if things don't go well, but he's my role model.

B David: Record producer

Because Dad and I have always been close, there was no one moment when he imparted some big philosophical piece of advice. I think his greatest gift has been his general unwavering belief in me. Since I was about fourteen, he's given me the opportunity to input ideas and have my say about the bands we work with or the equipment we use, which is amazing. When you're part of a family business, it can sometimes feel as if you have to be there, but my brother and I have done other things, and we're back with Dad again because we want to be. He left the decision to us. Dad's also been good at giving career advice because he's done it and he's got the experience. He's given me that drive and ambition to succeed.

C Andy: Buyer for a department store

I was probably Dad's most unruly son. He tried to teach me a lot of things - how much I've taken on board is another matter. But I don't think I'm such a disappointment to him! He's a very cool dad, but he's quite traditional in some ways. He's always said that if you want to succeed, then get on with it. If you're going to do something, do it right away or at least write it down so you don't forget! I'm proud of my dad and how hard he worked for us to have a lovely childhood and good lifestyle. Dad also taught me valuable skills like how to change the oil in my car, how to play tennis and ski - although the last time he saw me doing that he said he feared for his life!

D Simon: Rugby player

He had this catchphrase: 'Under-prepare, and you prepare to fail.' I heard it time and again. A typical teenager when things went wrong, I was always trying to blame everything and everyone but myself. He used his catchphrase and explained that if you don't put sufficient effort in, you'll never get anything out of whatever it is you're doing. That's stayed with me ever since, even now when I'm playing professionally. He's always given a fair amount of advice. He made me realise that if you just stick at something, no matter how hard things get, then your time will come. It's the hardest thing to hear when things aren't going well. At the beginning of the season, I wasn't getting picked for many matches. Then when the chance came to play, I really took it.

Answer Keys

Part 1

1. D - fulfilled. 'To fulfil an ambition' is the only correct collocation here.
2. A - estimated. The only verb that can be used in passive form correctly.
3. A - according. The only word that can be used with preposition 'to'. 'Depending' and 'relying' are used with 'on', 'agreeing' takes 'with'.
4. B - tendency. Answers A and D do not fit contextually as they have different meaning. Habit can't be used because it should be followed by a gerund: 'be in the habit of doing something'.
5. D - further. 'Further out' is the only correct collocation of the four.
6. C - Whichever. The only determiner that can be used with a noun here.
7. A - head. 'To head for' means 'to go in a certain direction'.
8. C - pursuit. 'In pursuit of something' means 'seeking, chasing something'. Other nouns do not fit 'in ... of something' construction.

Part 2

9. come. 'Come as a surprise' is a set expression.
10. is. 'The strange thing ... is that'.
11. more. 'Even more' is used for contrast.
12. ago. A time in the past is mentioned.
13. from. 'To get inspiration from something or someone'.
14. would/could. Both modals are acceptable here - both meanings fit the context.
15. so. 'So that' is the phrase that means possibility to do something.
16. how. They talk about the skill of Kieron's drawing.

Part 3

17. truth. Adjective to noun transformation.
18. relationship. Do not pluralise the noun, otherwise it won't be counted as right.
19. unsuitable. Note the negative prefix suggested by the context of the sentence.
20. absence. Adjective to noun transformation. Make sure to spell the word with 'c'.
21. inappropriate. Similar case to Question 19, a negative prefix is needed.
22. scientists. Plural is required by 'think'.
23. Unfortunately. Attacks from viruses is something undesirable, so a negative prefix should be used.
24. easily. Adjective to adverb transformation.

Part 4

25. has been/is three years since. Both variants are acceptable.
26. buy everything except. Note how changing forgot to remembered changes the sentence.
27. had arrived on time. Past perfect is used to show how one thing happened after the other.

28. not used to wearing. Use gerund after 'used to'
29. accused Jennifer of breaking. Accuse of something.
30. (really) looking forward to using. Both variants can be used here.

Part 5

31. C.....the news that he was in hospital shook me all the same. The opposite of A, B and D is mentioned.
32. C. Last sentence of Paragraph Three I'd darted into the doorway of a closed shop to avoid coming face to face with him. The opposite of A and D is mentioned. Nothing relating to Answer B is stated.
33. B. 'He was looking round but his attention was on the call. Suddenly, he brought it to an abrupt end'. 'It' refers to the call, or the conversation as the answer puts it.
34. D. Paragraph Six: 'I'd no idea what my hair looked like or if I'd got a spot on my chin'. Answers A and C are not mentioned. Answer B shouldn't be chosen as Ashe is only guessing whether Tyler had noticed her earlier.
35. B. Last but one paragraph: I wondered what he was doing. I pictured the funny brown glasses he'd worn to read with and wondered if he still read books by George Orwell. Answer A is not mentioned. Answer C is wrong - she felt sorry about turning down the invitation, not guilty. The opposite of Answer D is said.
36. A. To draw a blank means to get nothing, to get no result. This refers to Beth not calling or sending a message about her being late. Other answer are not relevant to the phrase.

Part 6

37. E. This answers the question posed in the previous sentence.
38. B. An advice is given in the previous sentence, and then more explanation is presented in Sentence B
39. G. A range of occupations is talked about in the paragraph, and Sentence G presents additional examples of such spheres of work.
40. D. The question in the previous sentence asks for qualities of potential candidates and Sentence D gives the answer - what the employer is looking for in people they want to hire for a job involving a lot of travelling.
41. F. Sentence F contrasts the previous sentences about companies that care about their employees and the sentence after the gap that asked their workers to move on a very short notice.
42. C. This paragraph gives tips, including the warning in Sentence C about not wanting to travel for the rest of your life.

Part 7

43. B. I think his greatest gift has been his general unwavering belief in me.

- 44.D. He made me realise that if you just stick at something, no matter how hard things get, then your time will come.
- 45.A. 'Drive it like you stole it and keep it on the black stuff!' ... those were my dad's jokey words of wisdom.

Part 2

For questions 9-16, read the text below and think of the word which best fits each gap. Use only one word in each gap. There is an example at the beginning (0).

Write your answers IN CAPITAL LETTERS on the separate answer sheet.

Example: (0) ARE

Swimming with seals

The UK is home to half the world's population of grey seals and there 0 _____ many local boat trips offering sightseeing tours out to the islands and sandbanks 9 _____ the animals are most regularly found.

But if you really want to get close 10 _____ the seals and understand something about their way of life, then you need to go on an underwater seal-watching trip. On these trips, you have the chance to go over the side of the boat and, equipped 11 _____ a wetsuit, mask and snorkel, spend time in the water alongside the animals.

Seals are extremely inquisitive creatures and, once you're in the water, they will swim past you trying to work 12 _____ who you are and 13 _____ you're doing there. 14 _____ they can appear shy at first, seals soon 15 _____ used to you being in the water, and will come and play around you. Young pups especially like to 16 _____ contact with divers, and often use their teeth, gently biting masks, fins and cameras out of curiosity. It can be a thrilling experience.

Part 3

For questions 17-24, read the text below. Use the word given in capitals at the end of some of the lines to form a word that fits in the gap in the same line. There is an example at the beginning (0).

Write your answers IN CAPITAL LETTERS on the separate answer sheet.

Example: (0) HEALTHY

Brain games

According to experts, doing puzzles keeps our brains fit and 0 _____. As well as gaining 17 _____ from finding the correct answer to a difficult problem, we give our brains a good workout in the process. To help us do this, all sorts of handheld 'brain games' are now available in the shops, and the most 18 _____ games have sold in their millions.

What's more, people 19 _____ that the more they play the games, the easier it is to find a 20 _____ to the problems posed. They see this as proof that there has been an 21 _____ in the power of their brains. Unfortunately, however, this may be a false impression.

Some 22 _____ argue that the brain gets better at any task the more often it is repeated. In other words, the improvement in the 23 _____ of the brain is something that happens naturally. So although these brain games are obviously fun to play, it remains 24 _____ whether they are actually helping to boost brainpower or not.

30. I paid far more money for my new computer than I expected to.

SO

I didn't expect _____ money for my new computer.

Part 5

You are going to read an article about a woman's career. For questions 31-36, choose the answer (A, B, C or D) which you think fits best according to the text.

A varied career

Chloe Kelling, a successful model and singer-songwriter, now has a new venture

I arrive for my interview with Chloe Kelling and I'm asked to wait in the garden. I hardly have time to start looking round at the carefully tended flowerbeds when Chloe appears. Every bit as tall and striking as I'd expected, Chloe emerges from the house wearing an oversized man's jacket, a delicately patterned top and jeans. Chloe is known for her slightly quirky sense of fashion and, of course, she looks great as she makes her way towards me through the flowerbeds.

'Let's talk in my office,' she says, leading the way not back to the house, but instead to an ancient caravan parked up next to it. As we climb inside the compact little van, the smell of fresh baking greets us. A tiny table is piled high with cupcakes, each iced in a different colour. Chloe's been busy, and there's a real sense of playing tea parties in a secret den! But what else should I have expected from a woman with such a varied and interesting career?

Chloe originally trained as a make-up artist, having left her home in the country at nineteen to try and make her name as a model in London, and soon got work in adverts and the fashion business. 'I went to Japan to work for a short period, but felt very homesick at first,' she recalls. 'It was very demanding work and, though I met loads of nice people, it was too much to take in at nineteen. If I'd stayed longer, I might have settled in better.'

Alongside the modelling, Chloe was also beginning to make contacts in the music business. 'I'd been the typical kid, singing with a hairbrush in front of the mirror, dreaming of being a star one day,' she laughs.

She joined a girl band which 'broke up before we got anywhere', before becoming the lead singer with the band Whoosh, which features on a best-selling clubbing album. Unusually though, Chloe also sings with two other bands, one based in Sweden and another in London, and each of these has a distinct style.

It was her work with Whoosh that originally led to Chloe's link with Sweden. She was offered a songwriting job there with a team that was responsible for songs for some major stars, but gradually became more involved in writing music for her own band.

Although she now divides her time between London and Sweden, her first stay there turned out to be much longer than she'd bargained for. 'The rooms are very tall over there and so people have these rather high beds that you climb up to,' she explains. 'I fell as I climbed up the ladder and cracked three ribs. Although the people at the hospital were very kind, I was stuck there for a while, which was very frustrating. Sneezing and laughing were so painful at first, let alone singing!'

It was while recovering from her injuries that Chloe hit upon the idea of staging what she calls vintage fairs. 'It was snowing in Sweden and I wanted something nice to look forward to.' Chloe had always loved vintage clothes, particularly from the 1950s, and decided to stage an event for others who shared her passion. The first fair was held in her home village and featured stalls selling all sorts of clothes and crafts dating back to the 1950s. It was a huge hit, with 300 people turning up.

'When I had the idea of the first fair, it was only meant to be a one-off, but we had so many compliments, I decided to go ahead with more,' says Chloe. 'There's something for all ages and people find old things have more character than stuff you buy in modern shops. It also fits perfectly with the idea of recycling.' Looking round Chloe's caravan, I can see what she means.

31. In the first paragraph, the writer suggests that Chloe

- A usually keeps people waiting.
- B is much taller than he expected.
- C lives up to her stylish reputation.
- D is surprisingly interested in flowers.

32. What do we learn about Chloe in the second paragraph?

- A She's cooked something for her guest.
- B She's expecting some other visitors today.
- C She has no room in her house for an office.
- D She invites very few people into her caravan.

33. What does Chloe say about her trip to Japan?

- A She soon got used to her life there.
- B She felt lonely most of the time there.
- C She wishes she'd done the work better.
- D She wasn't old enough to appreciate it fully.

34. In the fourth paragraph, we find out that Chloe
- A gave up modelling to become a singer.
 - B had always had ambitions to be a singer.
 - C has now left the first successful band she joined.
 - D sings in three bands that have a very similar sound.
35. Chloe ended up in hospital in Sweden after
- A breaking a rib whilst trying to move her bed.
 - B hurting her leg in a fall from her bed.
 - C falling off a ladder in her bedroom.
 - D tripping over in her room at night.
36. What does Chloe say about her 'vintage fairs'?
- A Her main aim is to raise awareness of environmental issues.
 - B She has responded to positive feedback from customers.
 - C Certain shops are now showing interest in the idea.
 - D They are mostly popular with older people.

Part 6

You are going to read an article about a boxer. Six paragraphs have been removed from the article. Choose from the paragraphs A-G the one which fits each gap (37-42). There is one extra paragraph which you do not need to use.

In defence of women's boxing

Lucy O'Connor thinks that womens boxing is widely misunderstood

Womens boxing is a new addition to the list of sports included at the Olympic Games. But according to Lucy O'Connor, winner of various international competitions, it's still widely misunderstood - a situation that Lucy's hoping to change. After graduating, Lucy took up boxing on the advice of a sports coach, who thought it would improve her general fitness. But Lucy soon set her sights on competitions and it wasn't long before she was boxing at the National Championships, which she eventually went on to win.

As a result of her success, Lucy was accepted on to what the navy calls its 'elite sportsman's programme'. 37 __. Every day now starts with a run at 7 a.m., followed by a skill and technique session or a strength and conditioning circuit. Come the afternoon, there are more aerobic workouts, before Lucy gets into the ring and practises with other elite boxers.

As with all competitors, diet is a huge part of Lucy's life. Since she first started boxing, she's had to shed twenty-eight kilos. Losing the last six, which took her into the flyweight category, required great determination. 38 __. As she explains: 'I don't go out to party anymore. Thankfully, I'm married to my boxing coach, so at least I've got some sort of social life!' Lucy's husband boxed as a heavyweight himself and he's in her corner for all her domestic competitions.

Lucy's mum works as a buyer at a big department store, and Lucy has been testing out products for the store's sports division. Whilst preparing for a recent international championship, Lucy wore a new titanium-based sports clothing range designed to improve circulation and aid recovery. 39 __. But how does her family react to her taking part in competitions? ‘Mum tends to admire me boxing from afar, but Dad just loves it!’

Lucy has clearly answered questions about safety concerns before and cites all the protective gear boxers strap on before a fight such as hand bandages, head guards, gum shields and much more. ‘Amateur boxing is not dangerous,’ she says definitively. ‘It’s so safety-orientated and the rules are so stringent it’s actually difficult to get hurt. We approach it more as a skill and point-scoring exercise, rather than as a fight. 40 __.’ Boxers win points by landing the white knuckle part of their gloves on the opponent’s scoring area - essentially the upper body and head - cleanly and with sufficient force. In five years of competitive boxing, Lucy’s suffered only a few bruises and a broken thumb.

And in response to those who think it’s ‘inappropriate’ to see women boxing at the Olympics, Lucy is quick to point out that women have been competing in martial arts such as taekwondo and judo for years. 41 __.

Her biggest concern is that people confuse amateur boxing competitions with professional fights, where the focus is more on aggression and hurting your opponents. ‘Female amateur boxing is about showing skill, speed and stamina,’ she says. 42 __. ‘I find it so satisfying to be changing people’s opinion.’

- A All that hard work certainly paid off and the competition itself brought out the best in Lucy.
- B That’s because in order to reach that target, she had to totally rethink her lifestyle.
- C Having access to this space-age training kit was certainly an advantage.
- D If the sport was more in the public eye, then fewer people would make that mistake.
- E Nobody complained about women taking part in those events when it was introduced.
- F That’s why I’ve always regarded it as a thinking girl’s sport really.
- G What this meant, in effect, was that she was able to train full-time.

Part 7

You are going to read a magazine article about students who travelled around Australia alone during their long summer vacation. For questions 43-52, choose from the sections of the article (A-D). The sections may be chosen more than once.

Which student mentions ...

- 43. a daily activity that was not enjoyable alone? ___
- 44. a good way of keeping travel plans flexible? ___
- 45. appreciating not having to waste time organising practical details? ___
- 46. becoming more tolerant of other people? ___
- 47. feeling better after keeping in touch with others? ___
- 48. having doubts at the beginning of a trip? ___
- 49. liking not having to agree an itinerary with others? ___
- 50. meeting people with a similar outlook on life? ___
- 51. missing having someone to help with decision-making? ___
- 52. the advisability of going for the best accommodation you can afford? ___

Solo travel in Australia

A Phil Morston

I remember sitting in the plane thinking to myself: 'What have I let myself in for?'. The first few days were scary: I was all on my own on the other side of the world with nothing planned. But I soon met up with people to travel with. Of course, some you get on with, others you don't. Some, for example, had every day planned out in minute detail, when in practice things can change and it's great to have the freedom to go with the flow. And that's easy enough to do. You can take the Oz Experience bus down the west coast, jumping off whenever you want, then catching the next bus when you're ready to move on again. Being away for a year, you do occasionally get lonely. To cheer myself up, I'd sit down and write a fortnightly email home about everything I'd been up to.

B Leila Stuart

Without doubt, you meet all sorts of people when travelling alone. I even made a friend on the plane out there. Some people are keener to make friends than others, of course, but if someone's chosen to do the same type of trip as you, you've probably got lots of ideas in common. The advantages of a pre-planned tour are that you can get an agency to take care of all the arrangements, which can be time-consuming to do yourself - but it does mean that you're tied to a predetermined itinerary, which wouldn't suit everyone. There's also the safety aspect in terms of the places you visit often being very remote. If you go off trekking in the wilds of a foreign country alone, it could be difficult to get help if things went wrong.

C Danny Holt

Travelling solo creates opportunities to meet people. There's no substitute for sharing the experiences of the day with a companion, and being alone forces you to seek someone out. I'd never have met so many people if I'd been travelling with friends. There's also the wonderful freedom to do what you like, when you like, without having to convince anybody that it's a good idea. However, there are downsides; meal times are something I've never really got to grips with in all the years I've travelled alone. But my advice would be to give solo travel a go - it can be very liberating. Maybe try a short trip to begin with, just in case it's not for you. Another thing is stay in the nicest places your budget permits. Miserable hostels can really spoil a trip. And if you really are happy being anti-social, a pair of headphones can ensure the person in the next seat doesn't bore you to death on the plane!

D Kerry Winterton

Fun as it is, travelling solo also has its low points, including occasional loneliness and the pressure that you're under to make your own mind up about everything. I chose to travel alone because I wanted to do something different, but I did miss people from home, and sometimes fell out with other travellers I'd teamed up with along the way. But I learnt to accept that some people have different attitudes to mine; that you have to put up with irritating people in hostels and accept not having as much privacy as you're used to at home. The best thing for me about travelling alone was that it was a brilliant experience that enhanced my independence and helped me feel more self-assured. I knew I was on my own, which made me make more effort to speak to people and by doing so I made lots of great friends.

Answer Keys

Part 1

1 D – examples. Other words do not fit the context.

2 A – deep. Other three variants do not collocate with 'inside'.

3 D – such as. This expression is the only one that shows examples or introduces a list.

4 A – rival. 'Compare' and 'compete' require 'with' in this context (e.g. 'compete with something'). 'Oppose' would mean to be against something (negative meaning).

5 B – reach. This is the only word with the meaning 'to discover, to see for the first time'.

6 C – details. 'Details' is the only word that collocates with the verb 'to miss'. 'Details' are usually minor and easy to miss, while 'matters' are more significant. 'Issues' means 'problems or difficulties'.

7 B – regarded. The only option that can be followed by 'as'. 'Believed' and 'thought' are normally followed by 'to be': 'She is believed to be the best specialist in the field'.

8 D – causing. The rest of the options can't be followed by infinitive. 'Making' can look like the correct answer, but the next part would have to be: 'making people rethink'.

Part 2

9 where. A relative pronoun is needed here.

10 to. Close is normally followed 'by' if we talk about physical distance. 'Close with' would mean connection such as friendship, which is not mentioned in this context.

11 with. 'Equipped with' is used when talking about articles of clothing or necessary things, in this case - a mask, a snorkel and so on.

12 out. 'To work out' is a synonym of 'to find out' - to understand, to learn the meaning or the reason of something.

13 what. A conjunction connecting two clauses.

14 Although/Though/While. A linking word used to contrast two parts of the following sentence. Remember that in your answer sheet all of the letters have to be capital, the capitalisation here is to indicate that it's the first word of the sentence.

15 get. 'To get used to' means 'to become comfortable with something new'.

16 make/have. Both words collocate with 'contact'.

Part 3

17 satisfaction. Verb to noun transformation.

18 successful. Mind the spelling! Double 'c', double 's', one 'l'.

19 discover. Prefix changes the meaning of the verb to 'to learn, to find out'.

20 solution. Verb to noun transformation.

21 improvement. Verb is changed to noun. Pay attention to the spelling.

22 scientists. Make sure to pluralise the noun, as suggested by 'some' at the beginning of the sentence and the following 'argue'. Another difficult word to spell.

23 performance. Verb to noun transformation.

24 uncertain. A prefix is used to make the adjective negative.

Part 4

25 speak English as well as. A comparison 'as well as' is hinted at by 'as' in the task.

26 are not supposed to cycle. Passive form of the verb is required.

27 apologised for not letting. Reporting verb with gerund is used.

28 were not able to go/get. Remember that you can't change the given word, so 'were unable to go/get' can't be used, even though it is grammatically and contextually correct.

29 came as a disappointment. 'Come as a disappointment' is a fixed expression. Be attentive to spell 'disappointment' correctly.

30 to pay so much. A comparative expression with 'so'.

Part 5

31 C. Last sentence of the paragraph: Chloe is known for her slightly quirky sense of fashion. The opposite of A and B is said in the text. Answer D is not mentioned.

32 A. Second sentence of Paragraph Two: ...the smell of fresh baking greets us. Answer B is not mentioned. The opposite of Answers C and D is stated in the text.

33 D. Last two sentences of Paragraph Three: ... it was too much to take in at nineteen. If I'd stayed longer, I might have settled in better. Answers A and C are not mentioned. Answer B is incorrect as she only felt homesick at first, not 'most of the time' as states in the answer.

34 B. Second sentence: 'I'd been the typical kid, singing with a hairbrush in front of the mirror, dreaming of being a star one day.' The opposite of other answers is stated in the text.

35 C. Paragraph Six: I fell as I climbed up the ladder and cracked three ribs.

36 B. but we had so many compliments, I decided to go ahead with more. Answer A mentions a minor point. Answer C is not mentioned. The opposite of Answer D is said in the text.

Part 6

37 G. 'What this meant' refers to becoming a part of the intensive training programme.

38 B. The 'target' is getting to the flyweight boxing. The changes to her lifestyle are described in the next sentence: 'I don't go out to party anymore. Thankfully, I'm married to my boxing coach, so at least I've got some sort of social life!'

39 C. 'Space-age training kit' mentioned in sentence C is the special sports clothing from the previous sentence.

40 F. The girl's sport means that you are unlikely to get hurt. It is implied that women are less likely to participate in sports that involve physical pain or potential injury.

41 E. 'Those events' from sentence E are judo and taekwondo.

42 D. 'That mistake' refers to thinking that female boxing is about 'aggression and hurting your opponents'.

Part 7

43 C. ... meal times are something I've never really got to grips with in all the years I've travelled alone.

44 A. You can take the Oz Experience bus down the west coast, jumping off whenever you want, then catching the next bus when you're ready to move on again.

45 B. The advantages of a pre-planned tour are that you can get an agency to take care of all the arrangements, which can be time-consuming to do yourself.

46 D. But I learnt to accept that some people have different attitudes to mine.

47 A. To cheer myself up, I'd sit down and write a fortnightly email home about everything I'd been up to.

48 A. I remember sitting in the plane thinking to myself: 'What have I let myself in for?'

49 C. There's also the wonderful freedom to do what you like, when you like, without having to convince anybody that it's a good idea.

50 B. ...if someone's chosen to do the same type of trip as you, you've probably got lots of ideas in common.

51 D. ... the pressure that you're under to make your own mind up about everything.

52 C. Another thing is stay in the nicest places your budget permits. Miserable hostels can really spoil a trip.

Vocabulary

The vocabulary below is meant to help you with the more difficult words. If the word isn't on the list then you are either supposed to know it or it is too specific to be worth learning and you don't have to know it to answer the question. Symbols in brackets mean part of speech (see bottom of the list). Sentences in italics give examples of usage for some more complex words and phrases.

And remember — you are not given a vocabulary list (or a dictionary) at your real exam.
